

ALBERTO BOTTARINI, LAWYER

Born on January 11, 1972 in Novara, he holds a Master degree in Law from the University of Milan, with a final dissertation concerning intellectual property, entitled “The recent modification of industrial design law”. His supervisor was Professor Avvocato Giuseppe Sena and vice supervisor Avvocato Elisabetta Berti Arnoaldi Veli.

Once he got his degree in 2003, he worked in the field of intellectual property law, with specific focus on criminal and administrative aspects (as far as the latter aspect is concerned, he dealt with food law). Moreover, he broadened his experience in the field of customs and sport law as well.

In 2008, he was admitted to the bar by the Milan Court of Appeal.

As far as intellectual property is concerned, he published a book entitled “Made in Italy” on behalf of Turin Chamber of Commerce.

He has contributed to the publication “The new law on know-how and trade secrets - Systematic first reading of the changes introduced by Legislative Decree no. 11 May 2018, n. 63” – edited by Professor Galli.

He is member of: A.I.P.P.I. – Association Internationale pour la Protection de la Propriété Intellectuelle; ECTA - European Communities Trade Mark Association; AIDA - Associazione Italiana Diritto Alimentare / IFLA – Italian Food Law Association.

He speaks English and French and he uses them as working languages with foreign clients.
